PROJECT

WEBSITE : FOOD WASTE SYSTEM (recycling/ reusing)

There is growing evidence that a significant share of global food is thrown away. Reducing food waste is a key sustainability challenge for the food service industry. .Everyday people are wasting food.

We are designing this website in order to reduce that food wastage problem. In this software the donor (the one who has extra food) can enter their Location, amount of food they want to distribute.Then a simple notification is generated in the website and the agent among that location can login & can gather the details of the food donor .The donor can hold an account in this application & whenever there is food wastage he can login and enter the details of food and location.

- Within this website , I'm planning to add the interface so that people wanting to donate food can register and their food will be picked and delivered to needy .

        <h1>What Is FoodWasteManagement</h1>

        In recent years, growing concern about environmental and economic costs, hunger and resource conservation associated with food waste have raised public awareness of food loss. This in turn has accelerated public and private efforts to make better use of available food supplies by recovering safe and nutritious food that would otherwise be wasted. That's according to Estimating and Addressing America's Food Losses, a 1997 article in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food Review.

Food waste occurs across the food system from the farm, post-harvest, processing, transporting, wholesaling, retailing and the consumers.

Food waste generated by disease, spoilage, restaurant plate waste, and plant and animal material produced during processing are not suitable for human consumption. These are better suited to composting. Other waste can be recovered to be consumed. Examples of waste that can be recovered for consumption are: edible crops remaining in fields after harvest, blemished food, surplus perishable food from restaurants or caterers and surplus packaged foods from retail food outlets.

        Poverty is the principal cause of hunger. The causes of poverty include poor people's lack of resources, an extremely unequal income distribution in the world and within specific countries, conflict, and hunger itself.

        FoodWasteManagement is committed to promote and facilitate food waste reduction through redistribution of surplus food and recycling of food waste.

	The world produces enough food to feed everyone, but about a third of it gets lost (due to financial or technical constraints, harvests die prematurely) or wasted, which equals to 1.3 billion tons of food annually. The U.S. wastes 222 million tons, or about a third of the nation's food, which equals more than $48 billion in waste, according to the United Nations Environment Programme.

	In order for a child to have a chance at a bright future, they need to eat healthy meals every day. When they're hungry, children are more likely to be hospitalized, and they face a higher risk of health conditions because of weak immune systems. A brain starved of vital nutrients is one that can't concentrate.

	Even if they are consuming an adequate volume of food, children may not be receiving enough of the vitamins and minerals they need to grow up healthy, and are therefore malnourished.

<h1>Hunger in India</h1>

<h3>India, with a population of over 1.3 billion, has seen tremendous growth in the past two decades. Gross Domestic Product has increased 4.5 times and per capita consumption has increased 3 times. Similarly, food grain production has increased almost 2 times. However, despite phenomenal industrial and economic growth and while India produces sufficient food to feed its population, it is unable to provide access to food to a large number of people, especially women and children.</h3>

 According to FAO estimates in 'The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World, 2019' report, 194.4 million people are undernourished in India.
By this measure 14.5% of the population is undernourished in India. Also, 51.4% of women in reproductive age between 15 to 49 years are anaemic.Further according to the report 37.9% of the children aged under five in India are stunted (too short for their age), while 20.8% suffer from wasting, meaning their weight is too low for their height. Malnourished children have a higher risk of death from common childhood illnesses such as diarrhea, pneumonia, and malaria. The Global Hunger Index 2018 ranks India at 103 out of 119 countries on the basis of three leading indicators -- prevalence of wasting and stunting in children under 5 years, under 5 child mortality rate, and the proportion of undernourished in the population. suitable for human consumption. Those are better suited to composting. Other waste can be recovered to be consumed. Examples of waste that can be recovered for consumption are: edible crops remaining in fields after harvest, blemished food, surplus perishable food from restaurants or caterers and surplus packaged foods from retail food outlets.

Poverty is the principal cause of hunger. The causes of poverty include poor people's lack of resources, an extremely unequal income distribution in the world and within specific countries, conflict, and hunger itself.

FoodWasteManagement is committed to promote and facilitate food waste reduction through redistribution of surplus food and recycling of food waste.

The world produces enough food to feed everyone, but about a third of it gets lost (due to financial or technical constraints, harvests die prematurely) or wasted, which equals to 1.3 billion tons of food annually. The U.S. wastes 222 million tons, or about a third of the nation's food, which equals more than $48 billion in waste, according to the United Nations Environment Programme.

In order for a child to have a chance at a bright future, they need to eat healthy meals every day. When they're hungry, children are more likely to be hospitalized, and they face a higher risk of health conditions because of weak immune systems. A brain starved of vital nutrients is one that can't concentrate.

Even if they are consuming an adequate volume of food, children may not be receiving enough of the vitamins and minerals they need to grow up healthy, and are therefore malnourished.

Mission/Vision

FoodWasteManagement's mission is to reduce food waste, thereby reducing hunger and improving the environment.

FoodWasteManagement's goal is to encourage the highest use of wholesome unmarketable food, through the development of sustainable public-private partnerships between food companies, food charities, and other waste diverters with a focus on bridging the technology, communication and infrastructure gap that results in large amounts of food waste.

Through our hotline we help connect food donors with non-profit organizations who provide meals or groceries to food insecure people, the elderly or children.

Through mentoring and technical assistance we help communities develop their own programs to reduce waste and reduce food insecurity.

Hunger in India

India, with a population of over 1.3 billion, has seen tremendous growth in the past two decades. Gross Domestic Product has increased 4.5 times and per capita consumption has increased 3 times. Similarly, food grain production has increased almost 2 times. However, despite phenomenal industrial and economic growth and while India produces sufficient food to feed its population, it is unable to provide access to food to a large number of people, especially women and children.

According to FAO estimates in 'The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World, 2019' report, 194.4 million people are undernourished in India. By this measure 14.5% of the population is undernourished in India. Also, 51.4% of women in reproductive age between 15 to 49 years are anaemic.Further according to the report 37.9% of the children aged under five in India are stunted (too short for their age), while 20.8% suffer from wasting, meaning their weight is too low for their height. Malnourished children have a higher risk of death from common childhood illnesses such as diarrhea, pneumonia, and malaria. The Global Hunger Index 2018 ranks India at 103 out of 119 countries on the basis of three leading indicators -- prevalence of wasting and stunting in children under 5 years, under 5 child mortality rate, and the proportion of undernourished in the population.
